When Father Kozlowski ignored Archbishop Feehan's warnings to cease organizing All Saints parish, he was excommunicated and the decree was read in all Polish and Bohemian parishes in the Archdiocese of Chicago on Sept. 29, 1895. The Polish-born priest continued his activities and on Nov. 10, 1895, All Saints Church was dedicated. Father Kozlowski founded the Polish Old Catholic Church and in 1897, he was consecrated an Old Catholic Bishop. Following his death on Jan. 14, 1907, All Saints Church became part of the Polish National Church under the direction of Rev. Francis Hodur. Today, All Saints Cathedral is the headquarters of the Polish National Church in Chicago.

Kozlowski, Anthony Most Rev. Bishop - Bishop of the Old Catholic Church in America. On August 15, 1885 ordained in Taranto, Italy. In 1894 came to U. S. From 1894 to 1895 assistant pastor of St. Hedwig's Parish, Chicago, Ill. In June 1895 organized an independent All Saints Parish in Chicago, Ill.; the church was dedicated on June 16, 1895. On September 29, 1895 the pastor and the members were excommunicated. On November 21, 1897 he was consecrated bishop by Bishop Edward Herzog, old Catholic bishop in Bern, Switzerland. On April 26, 1898 the Pope Leo XIII himself excommunicated him and the members of his parish. Died on January 15, 1907 in Chicago, Ill.
