

In this pastoral note, Archbishop Vigneron shares the Church's wisdom on using digital communications to "experience the beauty of truth."

"In this pastoral note, I would like to offer the Church's wisdom about what it means to speak the truth in love (cf. Ephesians 4:15), to seek and receive the truth, and to live in loving communion with him who is 'the way, and the truth, and the life' (John 14:6) by means of virtuous communication. Words matter. The consequences of words in our individual lives, in society, and in the Church matter. The truths words express, and the deceptions words perpetrate matter.

"In all times, the deepest reality of the Christian life is communion with God and one another. The words 'communion' and 'communication' have the same root: They both refer to the bonds that unite us as people and as members of the Body of Christ, and they both require a deep and abiding commitment to the truth and to love."